Join us for an extremely informative and important presentation, which features Mr. Ryan Ruf who is the Chief Operating Officer for Eastern Suffolk BOCES. Learn about the changing demographics on Long Island and its impact on our educational system and potential impacts on funding going forward. Mr. Ruf will break down the data in a way for everyone to understand how our student demographics have evolved and continue to evolve. Knowing your demographics and the region’s demographics is very important data to be aware of when formulating your advocacy talking points with your elected officials. At the conclusion of the presentation there will be a Q&A.
